

FEEDING YOUR PUPPY

Your puppy will be eating Science Diet Small Bites Puppy Food when it comes home with you. We will give you a starter container to take home with you. Science Diet is a high quality puppy food formulated for the high energy and nutritional need of your new puppy. Petco, Petsmart and local vets carry it. Our puppies also love Science Diet canned puppy food as a treat.

We keep the dry food available all the time for the puppies. After the puppy is a little older, you can switch to feeding 3-4 times per day instead of keeping it out all day.

If you decide to switch to another brand of food, do it gradually, mixing in a little more of the other food each day.

Your puppy will try to convince you that it should be eating people food. The food formulated for the puppy is healthier for it providing the nutrients needed for good health and growth, so limit the amount of table food.

Treats are very important in training the puppy. Remember to give very small amounts, so that the puppy will still be hungry enough to eat his Science Diet.
